Helmand Province, Afghanistan: a crucible of heat and dust and death. A lone convoy edges its way towards a deserted mountain village, led by US Army Rangers in Mastiff APVs. Stopping to search the area, the Rangers are hit by a massive roadside bomb, and as half the patrol lies dead or injured, the rest are ambushed with military precision. A nearby British medical team responds to the call for back up, but all are slaughtered when their Chinook helicopter is blown up. The ambush is bad, but what's worse is that, amidst the battlefield chatter picked up by Major Giles Roper, not all the Taliban voices are Afghan - some are English, and the commander bears an Irish accent; he even names himself Shamrock. Why would he commit such an atrocity, but more importantly can he be found before he masterminds another?.
