Not illustrated. 1908 Excerpt: . . . workmen taking up Victoria Street flanking Westminster Abbey. They always do it when Parliament is in session.) In the Lords, Carnot Midleton, Organiser of Victory, has raised the whole question of the readiness and fitness of the Army for War. In the Commons N. Bonaparte Haldane, all unconscious of what was in store for him, entered the House at Question time blithe and debonair. Grim-visaged war hath smoothed his wrinkled front, quoted Prince Arthur, glancing at the Secretary of State. Scarcely was he seated when the On The Fiscal Black List. Confederate. Never you mind who I am--that's a secret!--but there's no admittance for you till you take the oath of the Brotherhood ! (Lord H-gh C-c-1 and) storm burst. Fire opened from a masked battery served by Faber. Smashed an unsuspected weak point in administration of Army affairs. Appears from successive volleys of questions that Napoleon B. , as representative of War Office, was owner of The Coach and Horses licensed public-house at Hilsea, near Portsmouth, which lately came under hammer. Designing to obtain a big price, he, according to Faber, manoeuvred to withhold from persons assembled in auction-room, with presumable intent of purchasing, knowledge that the Government contemplated passing a Licensing Bill which would annihilate, blow up, undermine, crush, knock over sideways the Trade, incidentally lessening the value of The Coach and Horses. In vain Haldane cited fact that Ministerial intention of bringing in Licensing Bill had been common property for two years....
