Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.An excerpt from the beginning of the INTRODUCTION: IN a practical treatise it is not possible to touch in any but the most superficial way on the theories and traditions of the Old Masters. Yet it must be remembered that apart from the interest that is awakened in the student by the attention being drawn to fine works of art, a sense of Taste is thereby cultivated which will materially help his progress in learning painting, while the sight of beautiful statues and pictures of the great Masters will lead him to try and trace the methods by which Art has been practised and perfected in former periods. One fact which will be observed is, that there is a scientific basis to the study of Art, and another that Art was taught on a classical tradition from master to pupil in the early days. The result was that certain schools were founded - schools in which the several artists chose in common either the same method of painting or a similar point of view in looking at a subject. In drawing the student s attention to the general facts of Art, he will be led to interest himself in the outlook which Englishmen have exhibited in Art, and to note the causes which have prevented a British School from existing in the sense that one has existed abroad. We know that in Italy within the centuries that saw the growth and development of the great Renaissance, Dante and Giotto revived poetry and the art of design, Brunellesco built the dome of St. Maria del Fiore, Ghilberti cast the gates of the Baptistery, and such great men in art...
