

Arthurian Literature and Christianity: Notes from the Twentieth Century (Hardback)

By -

Taylor Francis Inc, United States, 1999. Hardback. Book Condition: New. 212 x 144 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Intended as the other bookend to Jessie Weston s work some eighty years earlier, this essay collection provides a careful overview of recent scholarship on possible overlap between Arthurian literature and Christianity. From Ritual to romance and Notes, taken together, bracket contemporary inquiry into the relationship (if any) between Jesus and Arthur. T.S. Eliot s The Waste Land is here regarded as one strand joining this matter to many a recent literary riddle (such as the meaning of the term postmodernism). Without reprinting work readily available elsewhere and no longer subject to revision through dialogue with fellow contributors, Notes attempts to do justice to all sides in twentieth century exploration of christianity s contribution to an art form which is also grounded in early European polytheism (paganism). G. Ronald Murphy, S.J., Kathryn M. Talarico, Deborah Rose-Lefmann and Anne Huntley-Speare contribute essays prepared especially for this book, which also includes revised reprints of work by Tom Artin and Henry Kratz. Selections from Jacques Ribard, I for William and Joachim Bumke are available here for the first time in...
