The Mentor, Vol. 2: May, 1892 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Perkins Institute for the Blind

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Mentor, Vol. 2: May, 1892 In France, Holland, and Sweden, Braille book societies have sprung up. Some of the German schools have been steadily striving to reduce the bulkiness and the weariness Of Braille writing by a series Of contractions amounting to a Short-hand system. This was presented at the convention at Kiel last August; and it is worthy of remark that, so strongly were the committee, intrusted with this subject, impressed with the importance Of such improvements, they recommended the introduction Of the system into the schools immediately after completing the first reading-book. In other words, they esteemed it Of practical value for all but the most elementary work, rather than an accomplishment for advanced students. Although their suggestion was not adopted, further tests and the publication of a book were recommended; and the committee was enlarged by two ad ditional members. In the city of Angers, in Western France, the directress of the school for the blind has invented a means of writing which is being tested, and which its advocates believe to be destined to revolutionize the...
