Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, in the Senate of the United States During the First Session of the Forty Fourth Congress The Senate proceeded to consider the joint resolution (H. R. No. 1) proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the pending question being on its passage - Mr. Frelinghuysen said: Mr. President, before the vote is taken on this measure, I propose to state the principles involved in it, and to do so with great brevity. There are only two principles involved in this article for the amendment of the Constitution, as passed by the House or as now amended by the Senate: I. That there shall be no establishment of religion or prohibition of the free exercise thereof, and that there shall be no religious test as a qualification to office in the several States of the Union. II. That the people shall not be taxed to promote the particular creed or tenets of any religious or anti-religious sect or denomination. Let me remark that it...
