Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from A Practical Recreation Manual for Schools In order to stimulate the use of the playground, and to help the teachers of Oregon in their work of directing the play of school children, this department published, in 1914, a Recreation Manual. That the bulletin might present the best thought of the day in this problem of playgrounds, we asked the National Playground Association of America for assistance in collecting the material. The association assigned to this work one of its field secretaries, Mr. L. H. Weir, and his assistant, Mrs. Stella Walker Durham. Each school in Oregon was furnished with a copy of the manual, and the results during the first three years have been most gratifying. Supervised play has come to be considered one of the indispensable activities of our schools. Happy, healthful children during the intermissions means studious, ambitious children in the schoolroom. To be recognized as standard, a rural or village school in Oregon must have at least three pieces of playground apparatus, and thousands of dollars have been well spent in Oregon...
