Dolphin: Made Under Direction of the Navy Department, by Lieut. S. P. Lee, United States Navy The brigantine Dolphin was put in commission August having been slightly repaired for five or six months service, after a long cruise in the East Indies, from which she had recently returned. Relieved on the 26th of September from the confidential orders of July 29 and August 29, relating to the Lepez expedition; and having received the balance of the sounding line from the contractors, (225, 000 fathoms single size, and fathoms triple size fishing line, in all fathoms of sounding line,) the Dolphin dropped down from the New York navy yard to Sandy Hook, for the purpose of swinging ship to ascertain the local deviation of the compasses.
