Excerpt from Thoughts for the People: Illustrating Man s Real Relation, Physically, Politically, Socially, and Religiously, to the Universe of God Beyond the duties immediately connected with the medical profession, I have not been able to give my time largely to literary pursuits. But now, in the peaceful twilight of my eightieth year, in the retirement of my quiet home, I have penned these thoughts, the result of long experience upon the vital questions now agitating the public mind. I hope the conclusions herein expressed will tend to allay the social, religious, and political discontent from which the world is suffering to-day.
