I am gathering myself together for a great leap, Jack. Dont look so sad about it, then. Take it as you would one of your Berkshire fences, Harry, with a firm seat and a cool hand. If I only knew what was on the other side, Jackthat bothers me. By the way, did you hear of the dinner at old Thornhills on Tuesday I declare everybody was drunk but the dogs; and they were turned out at night to find their way home by themselves. The Squire got very, very badport and brandy alternatelytumbled twice off his horse before he got out of the gate; and then, half an hour after, when the rest of us rode home, we found him sitting in the middle of the road, in the dark, trying to ward off the dogs that had gathered round him and were for licking his face, while he hiccuped to them Ggo away, my good peopleggo awayIve really nothing for you; pon my soul, Ive forgot my ppurse. But whats the matter, Harry You havent heard a word of my story; and youre looking as glum as a parson. Jack, Im going to marry. Dont be a fool. I am, though. Its all over with me, Jack. I told you I was gathering myself together for a great leap. Who is it, Harry Annie Napier. There was an interval of dead silence. Mr. John Palk was too prudent a man to hazard a hasty witticism, knowing as he did the somewhat fiery temperament of Harry Ormond, Marquis of Knottingley. This item ships from La Vergne,TN.
