Excerpt from The Curative Powers of Electricity Demonstrated The successful use of electricity in the treatment of nearly every form of dis ease is a comparatively new thing in Canada. A little over two years ago, the above institution, situated on the corner of Jarvis and Gerrard Streets - the finest streets in the city - was opened in Toronto. Its operations were at first confined to a building not more than a quarter the size of the present one. Before many months had elapsed, the premises were found to be too small, and the adjoining building was secured. But so popular had the electropathic system of Prof. Bolles become, that in less than a year the remainder of the row of buildings was required, simply to accommodate during their stay in the city, patients residing at a dis tance from it. It was speedily found that further enlargement would be neces sary and at the time the institution was closed for the purpose, two months ago, many persons had long been waiting in vain for vacant rooms. We have pleasure in now presenting our readers with an illustration of the facade of what is prac tically a new building. This structure, which is sixty-seven feet long, has all the modern internal improvements and is thoroughly ventilated. An extensive dining room, with kitchen, pantry. c., occupies the greater portion of the basement, the remainder being fitted up as servants dormitories. At the north end of the build in is a large parlor handsomely furnished, while the rest of the ?oor contains commodious reception, consultation and treat gentleman s department is in charge of Dr. Experience. Both the upper ?ats are devoted ments of...
