After witnessing some children tease her big sister Monica, who has autism, Sofia created Nectar and his cute group of buggy buddies. She used them to process what she had experienced and as a tool to help other children her age learn about the effects of bullying. Sofia, Monica and their mom, worked together to develop a story at a Pre-K to Second grade level, that teaches the importance of choices. Join Nectar and his pals to learn why it is always best to BEE NICE. Nectar The Unique Bumble Bee, is interactive and can easily be used as an enhancement for anti-bullying campaigns. The story promotes responsibility and respect by offering the young audience the opportunity to make the choice to BEE NICE to others. This story reinforces working hard, pride in a job well done and believing in oneself no matter what others may say.
