Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Coleoptera of the British Islands, Vol. 1: A Descriptive Account of the Families, Genera, and Species Indigenous to Great Britain and Ireland, With Notes as to Localities, Habitats, Etc The following work was originally taken in hand in order to provide a want that has been much felt by British Coleopterists, namely, a short account of our indigenous Coleoptera, with some reference to their localities and habits, and, where possible, to their life history: since it was begun it has somewhat increased in scope, as it was found impossible to reduce it within short limits, and at the same time not detract from its usefulness. At the outset I was promised valuable assistance by the late Dr. Power, Mr. Champion, Dr. Sharp, Rev. A. Matthews, Mr. Mason, and other leading Coleopterists, who have most kindly placed the requisite material at my disposal, and in many ways helped me. I must also express my great obligations to Mr. Bates for his valuable assistance in the classification of the Carabidae, and to M. Bedel for his kindness in placing his structural...
